RAILROAD TAX MEN IN CONFERENCE HERE TODAY

Representatives Who Handle
Taxation Matters for Principal New Mexico Roads
Discussing State Tax Situation.

Taxation officers of the various main line railroads entering New Mexico are holding a conference in Albuquerque today at which the taxation situation in this state as it has developed since the creation and two initial meetings of the state tax commission, is being considered, with a view, it is understood, to concerted action on the part of the various railroads in any course which may be decided with regard to the tax problem. It was stated this afternoon that the conference was informal and that nothing of a definite nature had been determined upon as to any future action by the railroads. The impression was given, although not officially, that the railroads were waiting for the taxation situation to develop further before committing themselves to any definite line of action. That the roads would protest further against the latest valuation increase was indicated, but how far this protest might go was not stated. Among the tax men here are J. A. Israel, of the Colorado and Southern system, G. G. Tunnel and E. T. Cartledge of the Santa Fe and H. D. Harding of the El Paso and Southwestern system.
